Joy Robinson: I am eternally grateful to Kevin G. Davis-Smith and Lisa Dusenberry for their inspiration and unwavering support. To my partner—John—thank you for putting up with my endless projects and late nights. I couldn't have done this without your patience and love. To Ryan (coeditor) who made this entire project come together. We all owe him a debt of gratitude for pulling this together and providing us a glimpse into this important field.

Ryan Weber: Huge thank you to Lisa Melonçon for incredible guidance and support putting this collection together. We also appreciate all the work and assistance from Mike Palmquist at the WAC Clearinghouse, as well as the anonymous peer reviewers for their productive feedback and insight. Thank you to Kirk St. Amant and the Louisiana Tech Usability Studies Symposium for helping publicize the CFP for this collection. Thank you to Katherine MacGilvray and Kalyn Jones for excellent editing and formatting work on drafts of this collection. Thanks to my awesome coeditor Joy Robinson for her tremendous work on this collection.
